

FDLP Pre-Meeting: Updates from GPO

April 27, 2023

Chat Transcript

from Charlie (she-her) Amiot to All Participants:

Anybody have a link to the Agenda? It's been lost to my inbox.

from Kelly Seifert to All Participants:

Greetings! Here is today's agenda: <https://www.fdlp.gov/file-repository-item/fdlp-pre-meeting-updates-gpo-agenda>

from Charlie (she-her) Amiot to All Participants:

Thanks, Kelly!

from Ashley Dahlen to All Participants:

If you haven't already, you will need to connect your Audio. Go to Audio, then Audio Conference and you will choose whether to connect via phone or computer speakers.

from Jennifer Morgan to All Participants:

What is the URL for the project page?

from Anne Zald to All Participants:

Is there a reason that govinfo.gov cannot be used as the repository for PL 117-263?

from Kathy Hale to All Participants:

What happens to agencies that do not add these mandated reports with the new law? Do they lose funding? What will speak to them? Is the failure to comply addressed?

from Holly Chambers to All Participants:

Could you speak to how those agencies not doing print publications are planning - if they are - for longer term preservation?

from Charlie (she-her) Amiot to All Participants:

Assumedly the MF lists will also be phased out?

from Charlie (she-her) Amiot to All Participants:

[Not a question, but I'd love to see what SuDoc classes are coming/going! I may have missed an email.]

from Mimi Curlee to All Participants:

How long does it take to discontinue an item number when nothing has been send out in years?

from Sarah Erekson to All Participants:

Is FFY 23/24 oct 2023 to oct 2024?

from Jim Noel to All Participants:

Don't forget to check WebTech Notes from time to time: <https://www.fdlp.gov/webtech-notes>

from Jen Lindley to All Participants:

Thank you Jim, I was going to share that information as well. WebTech Notes is a great resource for new and discontinued item numbers.

from Kris Abery to All Participants:

Good points Jim and Jen

from Jen Lindley to All Participants:

Mimi, great question. It can be hard for us to verify whether a particular title/item number is permanently deactivated or just in a lull, so there is a lot of research involved.

from Charlie (she-her) Amiot to All Participants:

GPO will also be at AALL!

from Jenny Groome to All Participants:

Hooray!!

from Kris Abery to All Participants:

Ordered mine this morning

from JoAnna McCulley to All Participants:

Yay!

from Charlie (she-her) Amiot to All Participants:

Those pencils and rulers were super popular. Ours are all gone!

from Andrea Craley to All Participants:

Ordered today! :)

from Amy Ruhe to All Participants:

Excited - just placed an order this morning!

from Mari Clark to All Participants:

Foodie guide to Chicago from University of Illinois Press "Made In Chicdago" In my expperience decent food can be a struggle at conferences.

from Janelle Breedveld to All Participants:

Will new decals be available anytime soon?

from Kristene Blake to All Participants:

May 8 Webinar on the Affordable Connectivity Program: <https://www.fdlp.gov/project/task-force-digital-federal-depository-library-program>

from Andrea Craley to All Participants:

Wish you still had the govinfo post-it notes. Those were popular. I'm on the last of my stash.

from Jenny Groome to All Participants:

+1 Andie

from Andrea Craley to All Participants:

Also liked the cute Ben's Guide bookmarks

from Jen Lindley to All Participants:

Sarah, our FY is Oct-Sep

from Kelly Seifert to All Participants:

Post-its and Ben items will come back. We are just trying some new items first.

from Kris Abery to All Participants:

Yes more Ben's Guide bookmarks

from Jenny Groome to All Participants:

+1 Kris - had a bunch of school groups yesterday

from Andrea Craley to All Participants:

Thanks Kelly - good to know :)

from Carol Spector to All Participants:

Sorry to be dense, but can you explain what is meant by Digital FDLP?

from Jen Kirk to All Participants:

Thanks again to GPO for support of this project! We are so excited to partner with you!

from Kris Abery to All Participants:

this sounds like a wonderful project

from Jenny Groome to All Participants:

Great news!

from Jenny Groome to All Participants:

Could speakers spell out acronyms first time using them?

from Kristene Blake to All Participants:

Check out the Digital FDLP project page for more information. Our "What's In Progress" chart can help explain what we're doing to move the FDLP to a digital program. <https://www.fdlp.gov/project/digital-fdlp-implementation>

from Jim Noel to All Participants:

You sound fine!

from Jenny Groome to All Participants:

When cataloging - can manufacturer be included? at least for firearms?

from Carol Spector to All Participants:

Thanks, Kristene! That's super helpful.

from Melissa Fairfield to All Participants:

Sorry, Jenny. I think I said USU instead of Utah State University.

from Kris Abery to All Participants:

Will future pilot project help fill in any gaps and/or build on the 2 current projects?

from Abby McDermott to All Participants:

Hi Kris - That depends on the scope of the future Pilot Project application parameters, and the applications we receive.

from Kris Abery to All Participants:

Thanks Abby

from Sarah Erikson to All Participants:

Are the serial set volumes being digitized chronologically?

from Bruce Pencek to All Participants:

Is there LSCM guidance for in-house digitization projects? As a land grant institution, my library is working on state Extension Service publications as state/university publications rather than as USDA works.

from Megan Minta to All Participants:

@Sarah - No, the Law Library of Congress did a pilot with a sample, which was made available first. They are now working roughly chronologically but their collection has gaps. Outstanding needs are on the GPO Needs List LibGuide: <https://libguides.fdlp.gov/gpodigitization>

from Heather Weltin to All Participants:

Is there a place libraries can go to see what titles at the volume levels are committed by preservation stewards?

from Abby McDermott to All Participants:

Information on our Preservation Stewards and our other Partnerships is available from the Partnerships page on FDLP.gov: <https://fdlp.gov/about/partnerships>

from Suzanne Ebanues to All Participants:

@Bruce- We offer best practice guidance for digital imaging at <https://fdlp.gov/about/partnerships>. Look under the Digital Content Contributor.

from Abby McDermott to All Participants:

Information on what is authorized for Regional Online Selection and Regional Discard in each NCSA is available on each NCSA page on FDLP.gov: <https://fdlp.gov/about-the-fdlp/national-collection-service-areas>

from Jenny Groome to All Participants:

Are these collections organized by title or subject - not just library?

from Bill Sudduth to All Participants:

Any particular reason the University of South Carolina's participation was left off.

from Jenny Groome to All Participants:

If not, could that be considered? It would help researchers

from Suzanne Ebanues to All Participants:

@Bill- Ben was highlighting new or expanded Preservation Stewards. We appreciate the University of South Carolina's long-time commitment as a Preservation Steward.

from Abby McDermott to All Participants:

@Bill - Those were only selected highlights from our recent Preservation Steward MOAs and addendums. We have so many wonderful Preservation Steward Partners now!

from Heather Weltin to All Participants:

Asking again in case it got missed: Is there a place libraries can go to see what titles at the volume levels are committed by preservation stewards?

from Kelly Seifert to All Participants:

Demo and Q&A for FDLP eXchange Release 1.1 webinar, May 4: <https://www.fdlp.gov/event/demo-and-ga-fdlp-exchange-release-11>

from Suzanne Ebanues to All Participants:

@Heather- Currently any Preservation Steward inventories are linked from <https://fdlp.gov/about/partnerships>

from Lisa Russell to All Participants:

Details on upcoming FDL P eXchange features <https://www.fdlp.gov/project-list/fdlp-exchange-application-development>

from Suzanne Ebanues to All Participants:

@Jenny- On <https://fdlp.gov/about/partnerships> There is a spreadsheet listing Preservation Stewards by SuDoc.

from Jenny Groome to All Participants:

thanks

from Heather Weltin to All Participants:

@Suzanne, thank you. I was actually wondering if for each title the preservation steward has the entire run? This is not at the volume level which would be very helpful.

from Kate Pitcher to All Participants:

<https://www.fdlp.gov/training/askgpo-training-federal-depository-libraries>

from Jenny Groome to All Participants:

I meant listing in a way to help researchers - ex. CFR then list libraries and which titles they preserve.

from Kate Pitcher to All Participants:

FDLP Web Archive site, <https://www.archive-it.org/home/FDLPwebarchive> from Ester McShepard to All Participants:

emcshepa@fisk.edu

from Charlie (she-her) Amiot to All Participants:

Does each use the same layout? Or six layouts?

from Kate Pitcher to All Participants:

<https://libguides.fdlp.gov/prototype/home>

from Elisabeth Garner to All Participants:

Yes, I've already watched the first one, "Introduction to Basic Government INformation," such a great refresher

from Kelly Seifert to All Participants:

Newest webcasts in this series: <https://www.fdlp.gov/news/webcasts-introduction-basic-government-information-and-introduction-federal-statistics>

from Tekla Slider to All Participants:

+1 Elisabeth

from Kris Abery to All Participants:

I like this training module idea. Very helpful

from Jenny Groome to All Participants:

A new contest - how many tabs do you have open at the end of meeting? and DLC?

from Jacqui Celecia to All Participants:

Is this series replacing FDLP Coordinator Certificate Program?

from Kate Pitcher to All Participants:

<https://www.fdlp.gov/training/library-reference-training-series>

from Charlie (she-her) Amiot to All Participants:

@Jenny, my word doc is insane right now.

from Daniel Cornwall to All Participants:

This reference module series is a great idea! Thanks!

from Helen Keremedjiev to All Participants:

@Charlie Overall, the layouts are similar to each other, but not exactly the same

from Charlie (she-her) Amiot to All Participants:

@Helen, got ya, thanks!

from Kate Pitcher to All Participants:

<https://www.fdlp.gov/file-repository/575/biennial-survey>

from Jane Canfield to All Participants:

Where is Puerto Rico and the rest of the territories in the NCSA Service Framework?

from Daniel Cornwall to All Participants:

Also - really just appreciate this FDLP update pre-meeting before the DLC.

from Janelle Breedveld to All Participants:

+1 Daniel

from Kris Abery to All Participants:

+1 Daniel

from Charlie (she-her) Amiot to All Participants:

Pre-Meetings are the best.

from Jacqui Celecia to All Participants:

+1 Daniel & Charlie

from Alicia Kubas to All Participants:

@Jane-- Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands are in the South NCSA

from Kate Irwin-Smiler to All Participants:

Thanks for this y'all. Gotta run but I'll see you next week!

from Alicia Kubas to All Participants:

Alaska, Hawaii, Guam, and the Federated State of Micronesia are in the West NCSA

from Charlie (she-her) Amiot to All Participants:

Would love to see a focus group opportunity at AALL! :D

from Kelly Seifert to All Participants:

GPO staff members: Since we are tracking to run short on time, can you please find any applicable questions in chat and providing answers in the chat so that we can get to everyone's inquiries

from Kathy Carmichael to All Participants:

The Reference Module series is not a replacement of the FDLP Coordinator Certificate Program. The CCP is instruction on Depository operations and the Reference series is subject focused to assist libraries in providing information to library staff at all levels and to hopefully making government information less intimidating for those not familiar with government resources.

from Jennifer Morgan to All Participants:

+1 Charlie!

from Jacqui Celecia to All Participants:

Kathy - Thank you

from Kelly Seifert to All Participants:

from Kelly Seifert to All Participants:

GPO staff members: Since we are tracking to run short on time, can you please find any applicable questions in chat and providing answers in the chat so that we can get to everyone's inquiries

from Suzanne Ebanues to All Participants:

@Anne Zald GovInfo will be the repository and access point for the Congressional Mandated Reports collection.

from Megan Minta to All Participants:

@Anne Zald, re: Congressionally Mandated Reports, it will be a collection in the GovInfo repository

from Kelly Seifert to All Participants:

@Janelle - the new FDLP door/window decals are in design as we speak. i would expect them in stock this summer.

from Jennifer Morgan to All Participants:

Jen - National Collection Project page

from Alicia Kubas to All Participants:

There is a project page for the NCSAs that includes maps and links to specific NCSA pages:

<https://fdlp.gov/about-the-fdlp/national-collection-service-areas>

from Janelle Breedveld to All Participants:

Thanks Kelly!

from Beth Downing to All Participants:

So the updated fiche records will not be updated through Marcive?

from Megan Minta to All Participants:

@Holly Chambers, re: Agency planning for long-term preservation, it varies by agency with some, like NOAA, USGS, and the National Transportation Library establishing repositories. However, many are not taking a proactive approach, so we are constantly trying to educate agencies about the statutory mandate in Title 44 to notify GPO of publications so we can capture them.

from Jennifer Morgan to All Participants:

Thanks Alicia and Jen -- wasn't sure if that was the "project" page.

from Stephen Kharfen to All Participants:

The updated records will be included in the files sent to Marcive.

from Suzanne Ebanues to All Participants:

@Kathy Hale GPO will encourage all agencies required to submit Congressionally Mandated reports to the GovInfo portal to do so. Per the legislation, the collection will include a table, if GPO is able to determine that information, that lists reports received late or not received. GPO has no other role in ensuring agencies comply with the legislation.

from Stephen Kharfen to All Participants:

We will submit the updated records to OCLC as well.

from Charlie (she-her) Amiot to All Participants:

We all just started singing. Don't lie.

from Scott Briggs to All Participants:

@Charlie, I definitely did.

from Becki White to All Participants:

+1 Charlie, LOL

from Stephen Kharfen to All Participants:

Eight sample records are available in the CGP: https://catalog.gpo.gov/F/?func=find-c&ccl_term=wlts%3Dbillsresolutions&x=0&y=0

from Kelly Seifert to All Participants:

Related to promo items, if you ordered pencils and rulers (some of our newest items) and your patrons gobbled them up, you can place another order for a restock. There is just a limit on how many you can request per order.

from Kris Abery to All Participants:

That's good to know Kelly.

from Charlie (she-her) Amiot to All Participants:

The records are really beautiful. Well done!

from Jenny Groome to All Participants:

Do you sell the GPO lapel pin? (I won one last DLC bingo). Still have mine - but just noticed my GODORT pin is missing.

from Jennifer Morgan to All Participants:

Will there be separate records for each bill version (introduced, reported, engrossed, enrolled)? Sorry if I missed you saying that.

from Jenny Groome to All Participants:

What is PCC?

from Scott Matheson to All Participants:

PCC = Program for Cooperative Cataloging

from Jenny Groome to All Participants:

Thanks

from Cindy Etkin to All Participants:

PCC = Program for COoperative Cataloging,

from Jen Lindley to All Participants:

FYI: <https://www.loc.gov/aba/pcc/>

from Scott Matheson to All Participants:

@Jennifer Morgan One record per bill, versions treated as integrating resource.

from Kelly Seifert to All Participants:

@Jenny - we used to offer the GPO lapel pin but haven't in some time. I will investigate.

from Mark Hamilton to All Participants:

Will the Bills & resolutions records be incorporated into the CRDP?

from Jennifer Morgan to All Participants:

@Scott - thanks!

from Jenny Groome to All Participants:

Lapel pin would be good one to sell (and give away as prize)

from Ben Webb to All Participants:

@Jennifer We're building records for the introduced (to the House/to the Senate) right now

from Stephen Kharfen to All Participants:

The records will represent the measures as they progress through the legislative process. So there will be one record based on the introduced version.

from Jennifer Morgan to All Participants:

Thanks, Ben and Stephen. Looking forward to seeing the records!

from Charlie (she-her) Amiot to All Participants:

I had a lapel pin and it got ripped off my backpack when I exited a Seattle bus and I couldn't recover it. Still sad.

from Stephen Kharfen to All Participants:

The GovInfo PURL will provide access to related publications as they become available.

from Kris Aberly to All Participants:

The GPO purl will provide access to multiple versions?

from Scott Briggs to All Participants:

Will the bills be distributed through the CRDP?

from Sinai Wood to All Participants:

Can we get a title list for the CD-ROMs?

from Stephen Kharfen to All Participants:

@Jennifer, thank you very much. This is a LSCM collaborative effort.

from Jenny Groome to All Participants:

+1 Sinai

from karina ricker to All Participants:

the last 90 minutes have been fabulous!

from Kathy Bayer to All Participants:

Scott, re bills in the CRDP, I expect so, but we have yet to talk about the logistics. I anticipate we'll send a message to all CRDP contacts. Please also stay tuned to <https://www.fdlp.gov/cataloging-and-classification/gpo-s-cataloging-data-in-the-cataloging-record-distribution-program#cataloging-projects>

from Sinai Wood to All Participants:

Great session!!!!

from Daniel Cornwall to All Participants:

This has been so helpful! Thanks for including the chat archive! So many great links!

from Amy Ruhe to All Participants:

That would be very helpful. Thank you!

from Jenny Groome to All Participants:

Thanks! I hope my next meeting is as interesting.

from Jen Lindley to All Participants:

I can't unmute, sorry

from Mark Hamilton to All Participants:

Thank you GPO for all of the helpful updates!

from Kris Abery to All Participants:

Very helpful session. Thanks for the updates

from Jen Lindley to All Participants:

Pandemic publication hiatus has made it very difficult to verify whether something is fully inactive or just on pause

from Mimi Curlee to All Participants:

Thank you.

from Jen Lindley to All Participants:

Megan addressed that one, too

from Stephen Kharfen to All Participants:

<https://purl.fdlp.gov/GPO/gpo194909> directs to the introduced and engrossed versions of H.R. 1.

from Amy Ruhe to All Participants:

Thank you.

from Suzanne Reinman to All Participants:

Thank you GPO!

from Angela Bonnell to All Participants:

Thank you!

from Amy Singer to All Participants:

Thanks!

from Janelle Breedveld to All Participants:

Thank you very much

from Kelly Smith to All Participants:

Thanks, all! Very informative.

from Cindy Etkin to All Participants:

Some agencies have a statutory mandates to preserve their content, but not all agencies.

from Andrea Stelljes to All Participants:

Thank you!

from Jennifer Morgan to All Participants:

Thank you LSCM -- so informative!

from Kris Aberly to All Participants:

Thank you GPO

from Stephen Kharfen to All Participants:

That is record 001214446:

https://catalog.gpo.gov/F/?func=direct&doc_number=001214446&local_base=GPO01PUB

from Carl Olson to All Participants:

Thank you

from Jen Kirk to All Participants:

Thanks everyone, see you next week

from Carolyn Ottoson to All Participants:

Thank you!

from Holly Chambers to All Participants:

Thanks!

from Chris Brady to All Participants:

Thanks!

from Mark Ames to All Participants:

Thanks!

from Charlie (she-her) Amiot to All Participants:

THANK YOU! See y'all again soon!
